From: The Johns Hopkins University Center for Talented Youth
Subject: Johns Hopkins CTY Honors the Academy of the Most Blessed Sacrament as a Top School

To: Academy of the Most Blessed Sacrament

We'd like to share some good news with you. Most Blessed Sacrament School is a "Top School" for the state of New Jersey in the 2009 Johns Hopkins University Center for Talented Youth Talent Search. We looked at the top 100 schools by state to determine the number of student enrollments we received into our annual Talent Search, and we're pleased to let you know Most Blessed Sacrament School received this honor. We hope this achievement will be a source of pride for you, your staff, students and families.

We're very thankful for your participation, of course, but we are also mindful of what this award says about your school. It suggests you have a solid core of very high achieving students. It also suggests that you look out for your top students' best interests by encouraging them and their parents to investigate outside academic options like CTY.

The web page that announces the Top Schools for 2009 can be found at www.cty.jhu.edu/ts/topschools/NJtop.html. Feel free to send the link to families and friends of your school. Also, on the left side of that page is an award medallion that you can copy and use on your school's web site.

Please also let us know what CTY can do to help communicate your success and to support your efforts to develop top academic talent in your school.

Thank you, and we look forward to seeing students from Most Blessed Sacrament School in future CTY Talent Searches (enrollment this year runs through June 30). Congratulations again.

Sincerely,
Lea Ybarra
